TO THE COMMUNITY MEMBERS AND TAX PAYERS OF MULTNOMAH COUNTY:

The Tax Supervising and Conservation Commission is pleased to present the 103rd Annual Report describing the financial activities of local governments and school districts in Multnomah County. This report has been prepared in compliance with the directives of Chapter 294, Oregon Revised Statutes.

The Commission continues to rely on the cooperation of many local government officials and staff to create this report. To all who assisted, we express our sincere appreciation.

Respectfully Submitted,

THE TAX SUPERVISING & CONSERVATION COMMISSION

Harmony Quiroz, Chair

Dr. Rita Moore, Commissioner

Matt Donahue, Commissioner

Allison Lugo Knapp, Commissioner

Tod A. Burton, Commissioner

To the Readers of the TSCC Annual Report,

The Commissioners and staff of the Multnomah County Tax Supervising and Conservation Commission are honored to bring you this 103rd edition of our annual report.

About This Report

Oregon local budget law requires TSCC to compile a “complete and comprehensive” report on budgets and bonded debt of taxing districts located in Multnomah County “for the information of the electors and taxpayers.” In this report, we share general information and high-level budget analysis for districts in aggregate. Additionally, we provide individual summary budget data for each Multnomah County taxing district using a standard format so community members can review budget data at a glance. We report budget information as provided by the taxing districts – for a deeper dive into the data, we recommend visiting the websites for individual districts of interest. You can find websites listed in the Budget Summaries section for each district that has one, and contact information for those that do not.

The TSCC Year in Review

District Membership

The total number of TSCC member districts is 36, comprising 84% of the 43 taxing districts in Multnomah County.

Staff and Commission Updates

The Commission held 13 budget hearings in FY 2024-25 for TSCC member jurisdictions. Additionally, TSCC held hearings for Sauvie Island Fire District’s local option levy and Mt. Hood Community College and Portland Public Schools bond measures.

This month we have two commissioners ending their service, Chair Harmony Quiroz and Commissioner Allison Lugo-Knapp. We thank Chair Quiroz and Commissioner Lugo-Knapp for their years of service at TSCC and are very grateful for their contributions. In January 2026, TSCC will welcome Commissioners Erik Kvarsten and Dr. Will Terry. Commissioner Matt Donahue has renewed for a second term and will continue on the Commission as the TSCC Chair. Commissioner Rita Moore will be Vice-Chair.

This year TSCC undertook a website refresh with the able assistance of intern Marisa Mendosa, a recent Pacific University Graduate. You can view the new website at www.tscmultco.com.

TSCC Expenses

The Commission's total FY 2024-25 operating expenditures were $450,235. This was 12% under the statutorily authorized maximum budget. The following graph compares the annual TSCC expenditures to the maximum allowable budget over the last six years. TSCC's expenditures for FY 2024-25 were higher than the previous year due to staffing transitions, scheduled salary increases for COLA and merit, and increased health insurance costs.

It is our pleasure to serve the public and the TSCC member districts. Thank you, supporters of TSCC, for the opportunity to serve you.

Sincerely,

Harmony Quiroz
TSCC Chair

Executive Director

About the Commission

Mission Statement

The Tax Supervising and Conservation Commission protects and represents the public interest, ensures Multnomah County governments' compliance with Local Budget Law, promotes economy and efficiency within those local governments, and provides advice and assistance to them

The Tax Supervising and Conservation Commission reviews the budgets of most local government districts in Multnomah County, checking to see that budgets are balanced, property tax revenue projections are reasonable, and that the budgets and process used to create them meet state budget law.

Purpose and Authority

The Commission is an independent, impartial panel of citizen volunteers established by the legislature to monitor the financial affairs of local governments in the county. The Oregon Legislature created the Commission in 1919, and it began functioning in 1921. Prior to that time, the Legislature controlled local governments' budgets.

State statutes require all local governments and school districts in Multnomah County serving populations of 200,000 to be TSCC members. There are 13 of these large districts, with the most recently formed district, the Urban Flood Safety and Water Quality District, joining TSCC in FY 2019-20. Those districts serving fewer than 200,000 can volunteer for membership. Twenty-three of the 30 smaller districts in the county are members. Seven small districts are not members, but the Commission still includes those budgets in this annual report.

Governance and Funding

The Commission is governed by state statutes. The statutes empower the Governor to appoint five Commissioners to direct the Commission's affairs. The Commission appoints an executive director, who hires and supervises support staff. The Attorney General serves as legal counsel.

Operating expenses are limited by statute and indexed to 4% annual increases. On average, TSCC's actual annual expenditures have been 90% of the maximum.

Oregon law requires Multnomah County to pay the operating costs of the Commission and to provide it with office space. The county covers these costs out of its General Fund and is reimbursed for one-half of the net operating expenses by the TSCC member districts.

Commission Activities

Operations

Oregon local governments create their budgets annually in the spring. These budgets begin at the start of the fiscal year, July 1. The Tax Supervising and Conservation Commission reviews the budgets of 31 TSCC full membership districts prior to their governing boards' adoption of those budgets (the five remaining TSCC members have limited membership, meaning they access consulting and advisory services but TSCC does not certify their budgets or hold hearings on their tax measures). The reviews are procedural and substantive in nature. Procedural checks establish compliance with the laws governing local finance, particularly local budget law. TSCC also provides a substantive review of program content and reasonableness of estimates.

Commission staff prepares a written review of each member districts' budget. The Commission then holds public hearings for large districts (those serving populations of 200,000 or more) before the district governing bodies adopt the budgets. The Commission's process ends with a budget certification letter. This review and the certification process distinguish the Commission from other regulatory bodies, such as the Oregon Department of Revenue or the county assessor, which do not receive or review copies of the budget documents.

Budget Certification

The Commission reviews each budget and identifies objections and/or recommendations. "Objections" are changes that should be made to the budget before adoption to meet with the local government budget laws. "Recommendations" are suggestions for improving budgeting process. Any objections or recommendations are included in the certification letter issued to each local government under the Commission's jurisdiction. The districts are required by local budget law to address the objections and certifications.

Public Hearings

The Commission holds public hearings to provide an independent and objective forum for community members to get information and express their views on the budgets. Commission members represent the public at these hearings by asking questions representing the community at large. Public hearings are mandatory for the 13 large districts and may be requested by the other taxing districts in lieu of the governing body conducting their own public hearings. The Commission also holds public hearings throughout the year on property tax measures placed before the voters. The Commission may also call joint meetings of the levying bodies to discuss tax coordination or other areas of common interest.

Annual Report

Since 1922, the Commission has published this Annual Report of all Multnomah County local government budgets, indebtedness, property taxes and other financial information. Copies of this and previous annual reports, local government budgets, and independent audits are available for review by the public at the Commission's office. Recent copies of the Annual Report are also available on the Commission's website at www.tscmultco.com.

Multnomah County Local Governments

Forty-three taxing districts are located primarily within the boundaries of Multnomah County and are included in the financial information in this report. In total, 36 districts are TSCC members. Thirty-one are full members, and five districts have rejoined TSCC under limited membership to access the commission's consulting and advisory services. TSCC provides consulting services to those districts, but does not certify their budgets or hold hearings on their tax measures.
